WEEK 1

Our Reading Journey

Help to make a display which celebrates the Reading Café members' reading journey, so far. This could include genres, reviews, Book Mark recommendations, Twitter comments on authors you are following, new books' release dates...What would you like to be displayed in the Library?

Board Games

Find a friend whom to pitch your wits against in the arena of words.

e-Books

Search for and download a Library e-book to accompany the book you are reading or simply to listen to, on its own.

Computer Corner

Spend some time online, researching your favourite author, find books in a favourite series, email/Tweet an author with a burning question, complete a Good Reads review...

Book Chat

So, what are you reading? Take time to share your thoughts on books that have made you laugh, cry, scream or swoon!

WEEK 2

Book Chat

So, what are you reading? Take time to share your thoughts on books that have made you laugh, cry, scream or swoon!

Café Book Group

Create a small Book Group with other Café-goers. Select a title from the shelves and read together: it's as simple as that! Set each other reading challenges and enjoy chatting about what you are loving – or disliking – in the book. It's good to talk!

Comfy Chair Creative Corner

Find yourself a comfortable corner of the Library and sail away in to the magical world of your favourite author's making...what more could you ask for?

Author's Live On Demand

Choose from a selection of authors available on the Scottish Book Trust "On Demand" list, sit back and enjoy listening to them talking about their work, their books and how they come up with the fantastic ideas in their books!

Book Chat

So, what are you reading? Take time to share your thoughts on books that have made you laugh, cry, scream or swoon!

Pupil Choice

Over to you...What do you want to see us do more of or less of in the Reading Café and/or in the Library? Have your say – we have our listening ears on.

Catalogue Research

Britannica rules...need to complete some research for a subject? Have Homework due in? Use the Britannica Online to complete research and find some fun facts.

Power of Poetry

Select a poetry book, find a quiet area in the library and enjoy either reading out the poems aloud, to yourself or your audience!

Scottish Book Trust Teenage Book Prize

The Scottish Teenage Book Prize celebrates the very best in Scottish teen fiction. Teenagers all over Scotland read all three books on the shortlist and decide the winner by voting for their favourite.
